Fast Facts

(Activity from July 1, 2003 to June 30, 2004)

- Journeyperson certification in a designated trade in Saskatchewan requires individuals to have a broad and in-depth range of work experience and to have successfully passed an examination.
- There are 49 designated trades. Four of the trades require compulsory apprenticeship training: Electrician, Plumber, Refrigeration Mechanic, Sheet Metal Worker.
- 5258 apprentices are registered in the system.
- 2885 apprentices attended technical training during 2003-2004.
- 1065 journeyperson certificates were issued in Saskatchewan during 2003-2004.
- Employers hire and register apprentices, and provide journeyperson supervision to apprentices.
- Industry, both provincially and nationally, sets the standard for training and certification in the trades.
- An equal number of employers and employee representatives are appointed to Trade Boards. Saskatchewan has 44 trade boards with 233 members.
- The Commission Board is an innovative public and private sector partnership. The Board is industry-led. Government, under-represented groups and trainers are also represented on the Commission Board.
