

Important Information for Auto Body and Collision Technician Practical Examination Candidates

*Update 2020 COVID-19: Safety protocols put in place by Saskatchewan Polytechnic state that candidates must contact the training provider at least two weeks prior to their exam in order to be considered for booth rental. There will be no exceptions.

Saskatchewan Polytechnic requires all personnel wear masks at all times while on campus to help limit the spread of COVID-19. Masks must be worn in shops, labs, classrooms, or areas where people work within 2 metres of each other, hallways, washrooms and elevators.

In order for you to properly prepare for your upcoming Auto Body and Collision Technician Practical Examination the following information is provided for your consideration.

It is recommended that you make contact with the examination facility you will be testing at in order to schedule some practice time so you may familiarize yourself with the equipment you will be working on the day of the examination.

All testing facilities offer equipment, materials and shop time, often during convenient hours, for candidates to practice the Auto Body and Collision Technician Practical Examination prior to the actual testing date.

Please be advised that these practice sessions are recommended, but are voluntary. Associated costs will be at the expense of the candidate and are not covered as part of your examination fee.

Practice sessions are not arranged by the Saskatchewan Apprenticeship and Trade Certification Commission. Information on practice time availability, cost and other details; as well as other short courses that may be available, can be obtained by contacting the applicable Saskatchewan Polytechnic campus:
